

Your Guide to WUDC México 2018

#WUDC

iBienvenidos a México!

We are very excited to share what we have been preparing for you for the last 24 months as you compete for the title of World Champion!

The Asociación Mexicana de Debate (Mexican Debate Association, AMD for its acronym in Spanish) is an NGO that was legally founded in September of 2015 mostly by university students and recent graduates who believe in the potential competitive debating has in improving the education landscape. Today, we are honored and proud to be the organization leading the 38th edition of the World Universities Debating Championship for the first time in Latin America and the Caribbean.

All of us on the Organization Committee believe the way to create a world where dialogue trumps demagogic is through discussion and debate; where conflicting views are questioned, sources are analyzed and people become more informed citizens. We believe these are the necessary tools to become global citizens in the 21st century.

Mexico is a country where inequality still exists and the potential to grow and prosper can be tapped through education, specifically with the propagation of critical thinking skills found in competitive debating. This is why we set out to host WUDC. We see it as a way to shape our day to day life, where people are empowered with a skill set to help them solve problems, discern information – in an era where the problem is not the availability of information but its content – and improve their lives.

In competing in this edition of WUDC you will be a part of something that will transform the education panorama in our country as your speeches help us transmit the pedagogic value found in competitive debating.

Your Convenors

Given the current geopolitical climate it is more important than ever that we weave a fabric of young leadership where we place dialogue and debate at the forefront as a way to solve controversy. We are firm believers that WUDC helps achieve this forming long lasting friendships and cooperation networks that will last a lifetime.

You will debate in one of Mexico's most renowned universities, see the contrast between colonial buildings built in the time of the New Spain that have been turned into museums and now house cultural artistic legacies of the great muralists. You will receive the title of World Champion right across the "Templo Mayor", cradle of the former Aztec Empire. Take the time to know the people, savor the flavors and fall in love with the former Tenochtitlán. We hope you enjoy the events we have planned for you and discover your Mexico.

At Dutch WUDC

Thank you for believing in this project and choosing to be a part of the legacy that will be WUDC México 2018.

On behalf of the entire team,

David Alatorre López & Montserrat Legorreta Luna

Notes on Mexico City

As with any city, use common sense. Do not get involved with drugs or other illegal activities. Stay in lit areas with people present. Use bottled water as the water distribution system is old and cannot guarantee clean water delivery.

Remember that Mexico City is at 2,250 meters (7,400 feet) high. The campus where we hold the in-rounds is even further up. If you are not used to these heights, please allow a couple of days to acclimate yourself. This means don't overdo anything (eating, intense activities, etc.).

Do not drink tap water! Only the tap water at the hotel and at the Bankers Club is drinkable because it is specially filtered.

Traffic in Mexico City is as would be expected in any major metropolitan area. Transportation to venues and other activities is provided. If you travel on your own be prepared for long transportation times. You can go by metro, taxi, bus, walking, or Uber. If you are not very adventurous, we recommend Uber (no tip required). To use Uber, download the app on your smart phone. The airport taxi service is actually more expensive than Uber.

All major credit cards are widely accepted. However, you may want to carry pocket change for small favours that people do for you (2 to 5 pesos is normal). Tips are normally 10 to 15%. As for our tournament, all tips for the hotel personnel have been paid, so no tipping is required during your stay (including bellboys).

Only two years ago President Enrique Peña Nieto officially changed our capital's name to "Mexico City" as part of a reform to devolve power from the federal government. Before the city was often referred to as "D.F." (federal district, much like D.C. in the US). So, the CDMX logo you see now all over the city is a fairly new thing and part of our rebranding Mexico's 32nd state.

The Paseo de la Reforma, on which our hotel is located, is a wide avenue that runs diagonally across the heart of Mexico City. It was designed by Ferdinand von Rosenzweig in the 1860s and modeled after the great boulevards of Europe, such as the Champs-Élysées in Paris. After the French intervention in Mexico overthrew the constitutional President Benito Juárez, the newly crowned Emperor Maximilian commis-sioned this grand avenue linking the city centre with his imperial residence, Chapultepec Castle, which you can see in the distance when riding along on Reforma.

The most prominent feature of the Paseo de la Reforma is the Angel of Independence , most commonly known as El Ángel. It was built in 1910 during the presidency of Porfirio Díaz by architect Antonio Rivas Mercado, to commemorate the centennial of the beginning of Mexico's War of Independence. It is one of the most recognizable landmarks in Mexico City, and it has become a focal point for both celebration or protest. It resembles the July Column in Paris and the Berlin Victory Column in Berlin.

Adjudication Team

Welcome to WUDC México 2018! This competition means a lot of many people, and we are honoured to playing our part in making this edition the best that it can be. We hope that your experience of this tournament is thought provoking, challenging and – above all – enjoyable, and we will do everything we can to make that happen. We are thrilled that Worlds is taking place in Latin America for the first time, and we would like to thank the entire Organisation Committee everything that they have done and will do to make this competition exceptional. We are humbled by the trust that they, and the entire global debating community, have put in us, and we will do our utmost to make good on the tremendous responsibility that trust confers.

The Tab

Tab Team Composition

George Chen is our Tab Director. His team consists of experienced people from Asia (Zheng Bo), New Zealand/Australia (Philip Belesky) and Latin America (Zoe Cardenas), and we are being advised by the excellent tab team of Dutch WUDC 2017 (Richard Coates) and being logically assisted by the Convenor of Thailand WUDC 2008 (Thepparith Senamngern "TJ"). Every member of the team had experience in tabbing major regional and international tournaments, and we are actively integrating advice from past WUDC tab teams as well as experts in logistics and management.

George Chen

Judge Allocation

We will follow the successful model set by the tab team of Dutch WUDC 2017 to use PreDraw and Quartiles to improve the efficiency of judge allocation. The Adjudication Core would be able to set the adjudication panel for Round X while Round X-1 is taking place. The algorithm is based on that of Dutch WUDC 2017, with gender balance, language-status balance and panel steepness parameters set based on specific context and need of the rounds

Error Control Practice

To reduce error to the greatest extent, we are requiring judges to submit an eBallot when the paper ballot is being delivered back to the tab room. For Round 1 thru 6, teams would be able to check their total team points before moving on to the next round. This would ensure that the result on the ballots are the same as the one announced in the debate room, and hence the draw for the next round would be based on the correct team standings.

Equity

Our Job

Worlds should be a place where everyone is welcome; where everyone is safe from discrimination, harassment, bullying and vilification, and which fosters equity, inclusion and respect for social and cultural diversity.

It's the equity team's job to ensure that happens, and to facilitate the best possible environment for participants at the tournament.

Equity operates during and outside of debates, during meals, socials, in the accommodation, any activity run by the tournament, anything involving participants of the tournament, and all interactions, including both face-to-face and online interactions.

We will be available at all times during the tournament should you need to speak to us about anything that is concerning you. We can be reached in person or at equity@wudc2018.mx.

Quick Reference

Banorte

Banorte is the second largest bank in Mexico in terms of assets and the largest one with a majority of Mexican shareholders.

Its main marketing campaign this year has been #MexicanosFuertes, which has showcased Mexicans that have shown international competitiveness in fields such as art, sport or entrepreneurship. It has been an honour for the Mexican Debate Association to have been part of the campaign.

Since last year, we were able to implement the Banorte National Team program, sponsoring our best debaters to compete in tournaments such as WUDC, WSDC, CMUDE, NAUDC or NSDA.

WUDC is a moment of consolidation of the partnership we have with Banorte.

Public Speaking and Masters' Tournament

Public Speaking

We live in a world where freedom of speech is constantly under attack and where the power of a generation lies in its voices and actions. We must be brave enough to find our own voices and make words count.

At WUDC México 2018, we believe each member of this community has something valuable to say, to express, to share and to inspire. In this light, we have chosen to make the Public Speaking competition a platform that seeks to empower and encourage; a tool participants can use to become better debaters but mostly, better citizens of the world.

Each round will have different dynamics and topics, testing multiple abilities where speeches may be held in Spanish, English – or both – because we recognize the importance of expanding the debate community.

If you have something to say, want to further your abilities and test new skills, do not hesitate and join the Public Speaking Competition!

Masters' Tournament

The Masters' Tournament was first conceived in Manila 1999 as a parallel tournament in order to motivate some of the world's best judges and give them a space to have fun, to be run under national teams. Since then, the organizing committee has proposed a local format to be used in order to exchange debate practices and showcase some of the best debaters in the world.

For WUDC México 2018, the local committee decided to hold the championship in Spanish for the first time, and in a debate format based off World Schools Debating Championship the first competitive format that allowed a Mexican debate circuit to be established.

Adjudicated by Javier Albrite, Paula Ovalle and Zoe Cárdenas (pictured), Masters 2018 will count with participants from several continents and will be formalized to continue the tradition of national teams, providing the possibility of native English speakers to also experience the challenge of debating in a language other than their own! With the Spanish language's special flavor, it will be a spectacle on its own!

Venues in detail

Museo Interactivo de Economía (MIDE)

The Gender Inclusion Night at WUDC México 2018 will be hosted at the Museo Interactivo de Economía (MIDE), which is housed in the former convent of the Bethlemites (Antiguo Colegio de los Betlemitas).

The building of the former convent dates its construction back to the 18th century, and eventually came to occupy an entire city block. In 1820 the king of Spain announced the withdrawal of the Order of the Bethlemites, consequently, the convent building was repurposed and split up into different parts. One of the more notable refurbishments of the former convent was the Santa Anna Theatre (later on called the Teatro Nacional) where the Mexican national anthem would be sung for the first time. At the beginning of the 20th century, the theatre is demolished to give way to the 5 de Mayo Street which reaches the Alameda. For most of this century what remained of the building would be mostly used for residential or commercial purposes. In the 90s, the Bank of Mexico (Banco de México) buys from three different owners the properties in which the building had been divided and begins a restoration process under the supervision of the Instituto Nacional de Antropología e Historia (INAH). Once the restoration was completed, the Bank of Mexico ceded the building to the MIDE, the first museum in the world to dedicate itself to the economy, finances, and sustainable development.

Antiguo Colegio de San Ildefonso

The Championship Dinner will be held at the Antiguo Colegio de San Ildefonso.

Founded as a Jesuit college in the late 16th century and then refurbished into the building we know today in the first four decades of the 18th century, the Antiguo Colegio de San Ildefonso is one of the finest example of baroque architecture in Mexico City. After the expulsion of the Jesuits in 1767, the building was repurposed for various different functions.

The college became the Escuela Nacional Preparatoria (ENP) under Benito Juarez's government in 1867. In 1910, the ENP became a part of the National University of Mexico (which would eventually become the Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México [UNAM] that currently exists) and continued serving as a school until 1980 when it closed to the public until 1992. In this year, the college was reopened to the public on the occasion of a museum exhibition called "México, Esplendores de 30 Siglos" and became at the same time a museum run by the UNAM, the Secretary of Culture and the Government of Mexico City which endures till the present day.

Teatro de la Ciudad Esperanza Iris

All of the finals for each of the events and divisions of WUDC México 2018 will take place at the Teatro de la Ciudad Esperanza Iris.

Located in the heart of Mexico City's Historic Center, Teatro de la Ciudad Esperanza Iris has 99 years of extraordinary history as one of the most important stages in the world; it is the oldest performance venue in Mexico City.

It was May 25th 1918 when this majestic venue opened and since then, this architectural gem listed as a World Heritage Site by UNESCO, has hosted great figures of the performing arts as Enrico Caruso (Italy), Anna Pavlova (Russia), Maria Conesa (Spain), Giacomo Rimini (Italy), Titta Ruffo (Italy), Leopold Godowsky (Poland) and Plácido Domingo (Spain). Its architecture is considered one of the most representative neoclassical monumental works of art in Mexico.
